VOLUME XXIV—NO. 277. CHARLEROI, WASHINGTON COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA, TUESDAY, APRIL 29, 1924. TWO CENTS

ONE DEAD, ANOTHER SERIOUSLY WOUNDED, AT VESTA NO. 6

A QUARREL ENDS FATALLY LAST NIGHT

Charles Phillipo, 42 Years Old, and Peter Rich, Aged 49, Are the Victims—Both Taken to the Brownsville General Hospital

PHILLIPO DIES TODAY

Succumbs At About 9 O'Clock This Morning—Has Five Bullet Wounds In His Body—Condition of Rich Reported Favorable—Assailant Escapes

Charles Phillipo, 42 years old, died in the Brownsville General hospital this morning about 9 o'clock, and Peter Rich, 49 years old, who was shot under the heart, has a good chance to recover, was the report given to us by the hospital authorities this forenoon. The men were in the hospital as the result of a fatal shooting affair at Vesta No. 6, near Fredericktown, late Sunday night.

Presto Salvadas, believed to be the assailant of the two men, is being sought by county officers but he has disappeared apparently from the Vesta No. 6 district.

County detectives were not informed of the serious shooting affray until 15 hours after it occurred, the first news being received through roundabout channels shortly after noon yesterday. County Detectives B. M. Laird and D. W. Creigh hurried to the scene, returning to Washington late last night.

Their investigation disclosed that the shooting affray took place at the home of James Bell. They were unable to discover any motive for the shooting. Persons present when the trouble arose, all of them foreigners, were reticent, disclaiming any knowledge of the cause of the quarrel.

It is said that Phillipo drew a revolver first. Salvadas, also, drew a weapon, but before firing, wrenched Phillipo's gun from his hand, and fired the contents into Phillipo's body. Salvadas then turned on Rich, firing once at him. The bullet struck just below Rich's heart and he toppled to the floor. Salvadas fled from the scene.

The wounded men were taken to the Brownsville General hospital immediately.

GINNS SAYS WOMAN'S STORY IS UNTRUE

Solomon Ginns of Belle Vernon this forenoon that the version of Mrs. May Dean as given in the Mail of yesterday is untrue. Mrs. Dean has been employed as a housekeeper for Mr. Ginns. He says that the woman has been addicted to drink for the past seven years: that he has tried to reform her, and even told her to leave his house; but she insisted on staying, promising to reform. He denied that she had ever been ill-treated at his home, and said that the boy whom she accused of hurling vile epithets at her was not even at home, but in Monessen.

Mr. Ginns stated that the woman has caused him trouble and worry, endless trouble, and that her story as given in the Mail did him great injustice, as he enjoys the confidence and esteem of the people of Belle Vernon, and wherever he is known.

Mrs. Dean took poison in a fit of despondency Sunday night, but has recovered.

Man Gets 25 Years On His Plea Of Guilt To Murder

Angelo Bruno, aged 25 years, an Italian miner of Avella, on his plea of guilty to second degree murder, was yesterday afternoon sentenced by Judge James I. Brownson to serve a term of not more than 12 years nor less than six years in the Western penitentiary.

Bruno killed Nicola Cicci at the residence of Sylvia Bernardi in Avella on the evening of October 14 last. Cicci, who had been a boarder at the home of Bruno, had gone over to the Bernardi home to visit on the evening of the killing. When he did not return for supper, Bruno went after him and after some discussion they got up to go home. Bruno pulled out a 25 calibre Colt automatic pistol and firing point blank killed Cicci instantly. He was at once disarmed, later turned over to the officers, and has since been in jail.

While there was no quarrel leading up to the shooting, it is alleged that Bruno was jealous of his wife, and blamed Cicci with being too attentive to her. This was denied by Mrs. Bruno and friends of the dead man.

Bruno is married and has three children. His wife is now in the county home where the third child was born recently.

Frank Baiser of Claysville, on his plea of guilty to driving an automobile while intoxicated was sentenced to pay a fine of $250 and to serve two months in jail, to be reduced to one month if the fine and costs are paid.

James Applegate, of Monongahela, on his plea of guilty to aggravated assault and battery, was sentenced to pay the costs, a fine of $50 and to serve one month in jail. Applegate, who was charged with hitting his sister, Mrs. Simon with a chair while drunk, has already been in jail for five and one-half months.

Mary Matula, of Slovan, a foreign woman, on her admission of having made and sold moonshine, was sentenced to pay costs, a fine of $100 and to serve two months in jail. Her husband was recently convicted of the same charge and is now in the county home. When he was arrested she took up the business. They have four children who will be put in the county home while the mother is in jail. Her excuse was that she sold the liquor to provide for her children.

John Duri of Canton township, and Charlie Miller of Fisher [illegible] sentenced to pay fines of $100 each and to serve terms of two months in jail. Emma Halmi, of Avella, on her plea of guilty to possession, was given costs and a fine of $100. Eva Rupcic, of Ellsworth, on the same charge, was given $100 fine and 30 days to jail.

Bill Barton of Finleyville, on his plea of guilty to carrying concealed weapons was fined $50.

BIG MINE DISASTER CREATES 87 WIDOWS

Two Hundred And Seventy-five Children Are Made Fatherless, According to Major John Cox of Benwood, Relief Director

54 BODIES ARE RESCUED

Only Few Bodies Have Been Brought to Surface Owing to Lack of Undertakers, Who Are Taking Remains From Mine Rapidly As Possible

Benwood, April 29.—(United Press) —At least 87 women were made widows and 275 children were made fatherless by the Benwood mine disaster, according to Major John Cox of Benwood, who is directing relief measures for families left destitute.

According to latest advices, 54 bodies have been rescued from the mine and have been brought to the mine mouth. However, only a few bodies have been brought to the surface owing to the lack of undertakers, who are taking the bodies from the mine as fast as possible. Most of the bodies are being taken to Wheeling.

Benwood, W. Va., April 29.—(United Press). — Twenty-seven charred and crushed bodies were removed, early today, from the Benwood Mill Mine of the Wheeling Steel Corporation, where 110 or more men were entombed early Monday by a terrific gas explosion.

Rescue squads, more than 1,000 feet underground, sent word to the surface that additional bodies had been located, and that there was no sign of life anywhere.

The entire mine force that entered the mine Monday morning after a mine inspector had pronounced the workings "safe" is believed to have been wiped out by the blast.

A small army of expert rescue workers, recruited from the Bureau of Mines and mines in the vicinity of Benwood, were still groping their way through the caverns of the earth today, searching for the 88 men still unaccounted for.

While the rescue squads worked untiringly the entire population of Benwood—4,773 men, women and children—huddled on a muddy hillside outside the Benwood mine gate, hoping against hope as the hours passed by that their loved ones might have escaped in the disaster.

The cause of the explosion is still undetermined. Officials of the Steel company have refused any information and as yet they do not know the exact number of men who entered the mine Monday morning.

One hundred and four miners "checked in" Monday morning after a mine inspector had gone down in the workings and reported conditions "safe." It is believed however, that at least six other miners entered the Benwood slope without "checking in," making the total in the mine at least 110.

Physicians, nurses, red cross workers, and volunteer rescue workers today were in possession of Benwood.

A hospital has been set up near the main entrance of the mine, ready to receive any injured.

MOTHER OF MRS. H. C. DREYER IS DEAD IN THE WEST

[illegible] Herbert C. Dreyer of Bentleyville received a telegram yesterday from Los Angeles, California, bearing the sad news of the death of her mother, Mrs. Lena W. Brenton, aged 55, wife of Johnson P. Brenton, who died yesterday morning at 6 o'clock, following a lingering illness. Mrs. Brenton is well and favorably known throughout the Monongahela valley, having been born and raised in West Pike Run township and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wright. Mrs. Brenton also resided for a number of years in Brownsville and Bentleyville, only moving to Los Angeles in the year 1919 with her husband and family.

She leaves her husband, Johnson P. Brenton, four daughters, Mrs. Addison Wise, Misses Sarah and Elsie Brenton, of Los Angeles and Mrs. Herbert C. Dreyer of Bentleyville; one son, Everett Brenton of Brownsville; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wright of Los Angeles; two brothers, John Wright of Clover Hill and Walter Wright of Los Angeles and one sister, Mrs. Earl Buxton of Los Angeles. Four grandchildren also survive.

SMITH IS TO SAIL FREE LANCE BANNER

New York, April 29.—(United Press).—Governor Smith apparently wishes to go before the Democratic national convention here under the banner of a free lance, rather than a boss-picked candidate for the presidential nomination.

This is about all that can be drawn thus far from the highly secret sessions held during the last 24 hours behind barred doors by state and national Democratic leaders here discussing Smith's pre-convention campaign.

It was not particularly surprising therefore when George E. Brennan, sachem of Illinois Democracy, solemnly announced after Monday's conference that he was returning to Chicago free from any pledge on behalf of the Illinois delegation, to Smith or any other candidate. This was followed by further announcement by Smith that he had called off his prospective visit to Thomas Taggart, Indiana Democratic chieftain, at French Lick Springs.

It will be recalled that Brennan, Taggart and Murphy have been rumored for weeks as agreed in advance on the matter of putting Smith over as the party standard bearer in June. It even had been suggested that Brennan, following the death of Charles F. Murphy, would be named manager for the Smith campaign. This latter rumor has been definitely smothered by Brennan himself.

CONSTABLES MAKE THEIR RETURNS

The constables of the county made their quarterly returns to the court yesterday. It was the usual "blind man's parade," for of the 78 constables only a few reported any infractions of the law in their bailiwicks. Only 36 of the 79 officers made returns, and most of the return sheets gave the various districts of the county a clean bill of health.

Listed for trial at the present term of court, which convenes next week, [illegible] violations of the liquor laws. A perusal of the list which covers the last three months of the term period for which the constables reported, shows that less than 20 constables made any returns of liquor law violations.

SECURITY FOR FRANCE.

Ever since the armistice France has been criticized—mostly by propagandists—for stubbornly seeking and holding out for some means of security against a third armed attack by Germany, a desire or purpose which has been denounced as an obsession, a hate complex, and what not. Now that the recommended settlement of the Dawes commission is so generally accepted, with even Germany reported as getting into line, France is lectured more sternly than ever. Germany having now promised to pay, what greater security can France desire? She ought to get out of the Ruhr at once, apologize for going there, and stop all her foolishness, for now she has nothing more to wish for and everything is going to be lovely to the end of time. Let us hope so indeed; but the open-minded can hardly fail to forgive the French for dubious shakes of the head as they look and listen across the Rhine.

For even as France is being rebuked like a naughty child Robert Dell writes from Berlin to the New Statesman (British) blaming the "present German government" as well as the Nationalists for conditions which he thus describes: "I have just been in Bavaria, which resembles a vast lunatic asylum. Ludendorff is a popular hero, and a war of revenge is regarded as an immediate probability. It is generally and firmly believed, of course without any reason, that the German government has large stores of artillery and munitions in Holland or elsewhere abroad for use at a moment's notice. In the schools hymns of hate are daily sung, the boys are being drilled for the coming war, and militarism and hatred of foreigners are systematically preached."

CALL FOR ACTION ON TAX RATES AGAIN SOUNDED

Washington, April 29—A call for action on the income tax rates of the Mellon bill was again sounded by Republicans in the Senate today.

Chairman Reed Smoot, Republican chief of the finance committee, announced he would call up rate provisions of the bill every day until Democrats get ready for the fight certain to ensue.

Republicans now are ready to compromise at a 35 per cent maximum surtax rate but they will stick to the finish by their normal income rates—3 per cent on incomes of less than $4,-

The Democrats want two per cent on incomes of less than $4,000 and 4 per cent over.

But the Democrats are unwilling to take up rates because they have been unable to perfect their graduated corporations tax scale. They want a [illegible] rates on earnings of corporations just like individuals. It takes some time to work out the scheme and Democratic leaders claim the are not getting the right kind of cooperation from the treasury department experts. They may be ready today or tomororw.

Smoot is not worried about the action of the Democrats in lopping off $34,000,000 in revenue by cutting out all telegraph and telephone taxes. Smoot believes a majority of the entire body would reverse the action of the 20 or more present when the vote was taken yesterday afternoon.

Adoption of the 14 per cent flat corporations tax, likewise was only tentative. Another vote will be had on this question when the Democrats offer their sub.

When the surtax rates come up Smoot will first require a vote of 25 per cent maximum of the Mellon oil; then 30 per cent, then 32 1-2 per cent and then 35 per cent. He will not go above 35 per cent. The Longworth compromise adopted by the House provides 37 1-2 per cent compared with 50 per cent in the present law and 40 per cent, the proposal

The Cost Value of Money

Children who have been taught the real value of money have the groundwork for success in the coming tomorrows.

Money is not a thing to be loved for itself. But once the cost value of money is learned and appreciated, the virtue of thrift is easily developed.

Teach your children that money does not come out of the air—that every dollar must be earned before it can be had.

There's no better way to insure comfort and safety than through a savings account here for every member of the family.

Baseball Lid To Be Pried Off In Charleroi Tomorrow

Manager D. Cleve Mathers and the Charleroi Independents, assisted by the crack C. M. C. team of Homestead, will formally pry off the baseball lid here tomorrow, the contest to be called at 4 o'clock. The visitors were organized about a year ago, or during the time when the now Bishop Hugh C. Boyle was officiating as a priest in a Homestead charge. They come here under the management of Tom Martin, and enjoy an enviable reputation, individually and collectively, as gentlemen, and on account of their prowess as baseball players. It will take mighty good pitching on the part of Beatty and great defensive and offensive work on the part of the home players to defeat the Homestead aggregation, inasmuch as flushed with success over their victory in the game with Jeannette last Saturday, they will take the field tomorrow, determined to register their second straight success.

Manager Mathers said yesterday that he expects a large turnout at the opening game, inasmuch as the Charleroi club will present some new faces that the fans will be anxious to see in action. Beatty, Latriam and Gannon will be in the points for Charleroi, while Welch and Zimler will form the battery for the visitors. It is likely that Beatty will draw the assignment to twirl, with Latriam in reserve. The line-up for the locals will be: "Bill" Phillips, first base and captain; Stepanian, second base; Waite, short stop; Smith, third base; Consonery, left field; Lew Phillips, middle field; Davis, right field; Gannon, catcher; Beatty, pitcher.

PIRATES EVEN UP COUNT AT CHICAGO BY WINNING AGAIN

Coming from behind and showing their first real punch of the season, the Pirates defeated the Cubs at Chicago yesterday by a score of 7-4. Cooper pitched for Pittsburgh, while the Cubs used their hurlers—Keen, Blake and Bush.

The contest was featured by home runs made by Traynor and Wright for the Pirates, and by Hartnett for Chicago. Pittsburgh plays in Chicago again today.

The Cubs are weakened by the loss of Hollocher, a holdout, as Adams obtained from the Wichita Falls, Tex, club hardly fills Charley's shoes.

REFEREE SUMMONED

fights in the history of the city. The spacious armory was crowded to capacity and was a bedlam of cheers as the 19-year old Pittsburgh boy, who looks more like a college student than he does a prize fighter, battered the battle-scarred Kaplan, who hails from Meriden, and who is being boomed as a world champion, from one end of the ring to the other. The crowd was awed at the sight of the youth, devoid of cauliflower ears and the other distinctive marks which make up the "coat of arms" of fistania, hitting Kaplan almost at will and making fun of him as he did it, urging the more rugged fighter to "come and get him."

Enthusiasm ran at the highest pitch ever witnessed at a fight in Waterbury and DeMarco was being hailed as a coming "champ." It was at the end of the twelfth round, when the enthusiasm of the crowd was at its highest point in acclaiming the master of Kaplan, when Referee McAuliffe grabbed the hands of both boys and raised them in the air, meaning that his decision on the fight was a "draw"

McAuliffe ducked out of the ring after he had rendered his decision and made a hasty retreat from the ringside. It was a good thing for him that he did, as almost everybody in the armory, with the exception of the rabid Kaplan supporters, felt that Kaplan had received one of the worst drubbings of his career. The crowd instead of leaving the armory surged toward the ringside and it took a long Lieutenant James Mulville, to drive the crowd away from the ring.

Immediately cries of the fight having been "fixed" went up and stories were in circulation that the draw decision was given to cover up heavy bets made on Kaplan, and that McAuliffe was related to one of the men in Kaplan's corner. It is stories of this sort that the state boxing commission wants to clear up.

At the conclusion of the luncheon a jolly time was spent in playing games, bringing one of the most enjoyable and successful evenings to a close.
